“ Sarah and family

I am cleaning up my office and ran across an envelope from your dad. I have tried several times to find a current address to write to him but he never turned up on a search. This time he did, and now I know why I could not find an address.

Jim supervised my Clinical Fellowship year at Stone Belt. Mrs. Burton then hired me and I worked with Jim at Stone Belt until we moved to Auburn after Mark completed his degree.

Jim was quite a character, had a great sense of humor and was knowledgeable in a wide range of areas. He taught me a lot about speech/language and how to work effectively with students and families at Stone Belt. He also explained (it took several times!) why it was not financially wise to get a new car just because my car was 6 years old and when it would be smart to trade. I ended up keeping the Wildcat for 25 years, and my current car is going on 37, running well, and serving my needs; what a bonus financially not to have had car payments all those years!

Sarah, your dad spoke of you often and obviously loved you very much. I have missed corresponding with him the past few years and miss knowing that he is in this world, making jokes and caring about people. I can only imagine how much you and your family miss him. Peace to you and your family.

“ Jim Garrison was one of God's finest creations. It was a pleasure to know him. In the school settings where he worked for many years he was a treasured colleague.

Sarah and family, my condolences. He loved you and he loved those grandchildren.

“ Uncle Jim was one of my mother's siblings, and I associate him with music, jokes, and love. He stayed with us for a couple of weeks after his eye surgery (1959), and he composed a skit for Tommy Weidner and me. Tommy was a cousin, one of Aunt Eileen's and Uncle Charles' children. Uncle Jim also had us read about 100 Corny Limericks aloud to him while he rested his eyes. Uncle Jim and Aunt Jean were delighted when their daughter, Sarah, was born. (I was in junior high school by then.) He kept in touch with the extended family throughout his long, busy life.

Love,
Jane (Harvey) Thornburg, Ellen, and John; David and Sharon Harvey and their children.
