“ When I moved to Indiana from Missouri, it was just my little girl and I. We had not family anywhere close. Jenny adopted us as her own. Took us in like strays and loved us too. She invited us to Thanksgiving dinner with her family that first year and she was always so kind to my children and I. Many times I would go up and visit with her in her cozy kitchen (with her dolls watching) and listen to her stories - wonderful stories about growing up, about her mother, about raising her children. Later when she moved to Bedford, I remember visiting her, after someone had given her that blanket with all her family photos on it. I asked her if she missed her home much. She said yes, but at night when she was in bed under that blanket, she was surrounded by her family and she was happy. Virginia was always happy when I visited, and her happiness was infectious. She made others happy too. I'll miss her.

“ Virginia was an absolute treasure to my mother (Mavis Welpott). Virginia always had had a smile to share and stories about her family and a sweet laugh that brightened each visit. Her kindness and beautiful spirit was always appreciated by my mother and our entire family!
