August 20, 1971 - March 30, 2014

August 20, 1971-March 30, 2014

Andrew Joseph (AJ) Dvorak, age 42, of Bloomington, IN passed away Sunday evening. He was born August 20, 1971 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin to Gus and Norene (Piber) Dvorak.

AJ graduated from Homestead High School in Mequon, WI in 1989. After attending music school in California where he pursued his love of composing and playing music for both acoustic and electric guitar, he moved to Bloomington.

AJ was well read, visiting the library and local bookstores on a regular basis. He enjoyed the simple pleasures of living in downtown Bloomington, and would stroll the sidewalks and hike the B-Line trail daily.

He was a kind soul who would help out his opponent in games of cards or Scrabble and gave great hints when administering the Isaac Asimov Quiz in the Sunday paper to his family. AJ was pure of heart.

AJ is survived by his mother, Norene Dvorak of Bloomington, IN; one brother, Peter (Jany) Dvorak of Naples, FL; and one sister, Lucia (Mike) Yeager of Albuquerque, NM. He will be missed by his eight nieces and nephews, Rebecca, Kevin, Austin, Nicholas, Jesse, Nathan, Samuel, and Rachael.

He was preceded in death by his father.

His family is planning a Celebration of Life at a later date.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to the Centerstone Foundation (www.centerstone.org) or the Pinnacle School of Bloomington (www.pinnacleschool.org).

Allen Funeral Home is handling the arrangements. Friends can send condolences to www.allenfuneralhome.org.

“ My cousin A.J. was one of the most beautiful souls I have ever met. He always smiled and looked you in the eye, sharing his inner warmth and deep thoughts. His talents were only matched by his continuous striving to know and understand more. My love and prayers are with you Aunt Norene, Peter, and Lucia. I love you all! God Bless.

“ Andrew was my next-door neighbor from the time I moved into my apartment in late October of 2010. Though we didn't have much contact I noticed how courteous and well-spoken he was and I continue to be aware of his absence. Andrew was a great person to have as a neighbor. Peace and strength to his family and friends.
