“ Betty was a voracious reader, reading a novel a day. Betty had a love for wildflower walks in the woods. Betty, as the steadfast Christian that she was - I imagine she is reading in a beautiful meadow filled with wildflowers in heaven now. Rest In Peace - dear friend. Jan:)

Although Betty was only 6 years older than me, she was my “babysitter.” She always brought books and we both read a lot. I would see her often at Michaels craft store. Blessings to the family. Margaret Deckard Hoff
