“ Cathy and I were neighbors back in 1985 when my middle son was born. She was the first one I trusted to hold my bundle of joy. Some of the things her and I got into back then just to get to our jobs back then should have gotten us in so much trouble. When I was having troubles she was there to have my back.

I remember when Bobby Knight threw the chair my husband had made the hottest chili ever. We had tears streaming down our faces and red. She ran downstairs yelling Jim what did you put in this chili every jalapeño you could get. Then yelled where the hell is the milk. Couldn't have been more 10 minutes and we looked out and her car was on fire burning in the parking lot. Never did figure out what happened.

Reconnected with her when I started working at Cook. Her comment was well crap they'll hire anyone here. She hugged me and said Hi Suze how the hell are you. After that it was old home week. She was blunt, and got me through more hard times as she did back in the day. It was like we hadn't been apart for that long of time. She'd give me that look when I'd screw up a label. But I loved her for it. Cathy thank you for all the wonderful memories. And for having my back. You were one of a kind I'll love you forever and miss you with my whole heart. My prayers are with Sarah and Chris and your beautiful grandchildren. Until we meet again you'll forever be on my mind and my heart. Love you so much. Rest easy beautiful you're reunited with the love of your life. I'm sure he was holding his hand out to guide you into heaven.
