“ Tina,

It was with sadness that I read Charlie's obituary. Charlie was always a good, friendly, and witty guy. I knew him for 35 years, including playing chess, taking abstract algebra, and seeing the both of you at school events. He told me that he was going to get back to chess after he retired, but I guess that is not going to happen. It is ironic that the last time I saw him was at "dearly departed."

“ Charlie was such a great guy. Funny, smart, always challenging me to think of things in a new way. We had a lot of fun playing backgammon, and used to sing along to the radio together driving to and from tournaments. "Coulda, shoulda, woulda..." as Charlie always said. I coulda told him more often how much I loved him, and I shoulda, and if time travel was possible, I woulda. I'm so sorry, Tina and family. So sorry.
