“ Cheryl and I met in the Dept of Chemistry and have been friends for over 40 years. She was an avid gardener and crafts person and excelled in those areas. I always admired her talents and skills involving any form of handiwork and she created masterpieces in counted cross-stitch, knitting, felting, and crochet. She was funny, sweet, and generous, and humble about her creations. She travelled to 2 other continents, experiencing their cultures. She was a real warrior in her battle with 2 breast cancers, but the brain cancer that followed couldn't be overcome. She gathered many friends over the years that will miss her, particularly those in her local 'fiber arts' group. She had so much yet to life and enjoy.

“ Cheryl and I have know each other since our days in junior high at Dyer in band. We remained close although jr and high school, with about 6 of us running around together. Cheryl was always so funny, loving her math classes, and excelling in band and orchestra. After our 50 high school reunion, 3 of us form a book club, which we had to have Zoom meetings because we were spread all over the US! She will be deeply missed, she was taken too soon. Love you Cheryl!
