“ I was sorry to hear of the death of Eileen Appleton. I wrote to tell her of the death of a mutual friend in Carthage, MO. and my letter to her was returned. I put her name on the internet and discovered she had died in Dec. '09.

Did she die at home or in a hospital? How long was she ill? I have been friends with her for 40 or more years.....after she came to Missouri to work.

Thank you for any information you can give me on her last days.

“ My families deepest condolences goes out to your family. We are all deeply sorry that none of us were able to make it to the memorial. We all loved Aunt Eileen so much! She will be greatly missed. She lived a long life and accomplished so much, more than any of us could imagine. My grandma Hanna Appleton, Aunt Eileen's sister-in-law recalls so many memories of her and Aunt Eileen.

Aunt Eileen you are greatly missed and I love you more than any words can say. I know you are in a better place now.

Until we meet again.

I love you.

“ My husband and I have known Eileen only since we moved to Bell Trace. We became acquainted with Eileen at one of the social events at Bell Trace and enjoyed her cheerful, modest, and friendly personality. She was always interested in our family and talked about her nieces in return. We will miss her greatly and want her family to know how well-liked Eileen was at Bell Trace.

“ I am very sorry to read of Eileen's death. Have known her since 1967 when I joined the staff of Dean Smith Higgins in Regional Campuses Administration. She and I were adult education majors in the School of Education; But, because I was a couple of years ahead of her, we did not attend classes at the same time: however, we frequently discussed those classes and issues in the field.

I was pleased to see her at Trinity Church, after her retirement and return to Bloomington. Her professional contributions were significant and her winsome personality encouraged friendships. She will be missed by many.

Unfortunately, I cannot be present at the service Saturday morning at Trinity Church. Please allow me to extend my sympathy to members of her family through this means.

Cordially,

Wayne (Craig)'
