“Floyd taught me so much including what I know about plumbing, carpentry and mushroom hunting. I miss him already and when I go hunting this spring, he'll be there with me and I'll hear his voice telling me not to follow him so closely as I won't find anything in his tracks. My parents, Marvin and Glodean Turpen will be welcoming him, once again, to join them in heaven as they all reunite in the spirit of love and family. Floyd was a joyful man and we all loved him.

“Floyd Ray, This is your "older" Sis. How I already miss you. I just keep remembering the fun time you and I had growing up, taking the horse and sled down in the woods and Grandpa Lonnie "chewing" us out ... he was easy on you though (Pet). How wonderful to have such fun memories and I know that you always knew how very much I loved you and I will always keep those memories alive. Sis
