“ I remember when I used to drive down with our grandma Johnson I her little maroon bug, all the way to lake lemon to spend the day in the summer sun. I'd talk to aunt Etta about her paintings and we'd run around the back yard talking about everything under the sun. You were older than me but never left me out and always made me laugh.
I'll miss you cousin. I know grandma and momma Judy are so happy to have you with them dancing among the stars. ☐
