“ i know it's been 4 years since this little angels been in heaven and i know no one probably even gets on this anymore, but i just wanted to say is that yes it's been 4 years since i last got to hold him, hear his voice, see his sweet little adorable face, or anything and i miss everything about him so much. jayzon was my baby cousin but if you really think about it he was more of my baby brother. i didn't treat him as i would my cousins i treated him as my baby brother. the day i found out we lost him is when i lost it. i had no idea what to do after that. that was my baby and out of no where he was gone for good and there wasn't anything i could do to get him back. i still think about him a lot, when i am alone somewhere i picture him sitting next to me playing with his legos. when i picture that i just sit there and smile and watch him and listen to him talk to me and laugh then, he'd reach his arm out to touch my leg to get me to play with him and it's actually like i can feel his hand on my leg.. then i lose it and start crying. i miss hearing him say my name he wouldn't say makinsey he'd say "bakinsey", and when he'd say sorry instead of saying sorry he'd say "soddy", i miss him running around the house when he was home i miss him asking to sleep with me and i miss how him and baby derek would fight over who was sleeping with me sometimes! jayzon was a smart little boy and he liked trying to be like his uncles dabid (my father david) jayzon loved his uncle so much they had a bond that was literally unbreakable. i honestly just wish i could have seen him one last time before he went. jayzon bubby i love you and miss you like crazy! i'll see you when it's my turn to bubby i hope you're having a blast up their in heaven with the angels and everything i love you so so so so so so so much baby boy.

“ You don't know me, but my heart goes out to this precious child family. It was 32 yrs ago that I lost my five & a half old baby boy. Please take comfort that J.J. is not suffering, he is healthy again. However, I won't lie to you. Time does not heal all wounds, especially with a child. Some yrs it will hit you like a heavy rock, but you will get through it, I promise. The first yr is the roughest, but lean on family, friends, the Lord, groups, you may even email me. Just know that a complete stranger feels your pain and sorrow and prays that you remember the happy times. God Bless You
