“ I'm so saddened to learn that Joan has passed away and to know that she suffered the ravages of cancer. She was a beautiful person - inside and out. Joan and I grew up together in our little town in upstate New York near the Canadian border. We were in school together and played at each other's houses. Our families were connected the way little towns' folk are. My mother drove her mother, Dort, to the hospital each time she was due to give birth. Even though my family attended a Protestant church, I regularly attended the CYC activities at Joan's Catholic church to be with her. I even attended the catechism classes because she did too. We loved to ice skate, ride bikes and later dance at the local community hall. I have wonderful memories of wonderful times with Joan.

This time of year I always remember how we staged "I Saw Mommy Kissing Santa Claus" and acted out the scene using the beautiful stairway in her family home. We must have annoyed others in the house with the repeated sound from the record player!

My condolences are expressed to Joan's children and grandchildren and to her sisters. I realize that this is a very difficult time for all of you.

With sincere sympathy, Carolyn Hall Akland.
