“ You have been there since I was a wee one and you and Jackie would go fishing. You have always been like a uncle to me and sometimes a big brother. You slept on my couch and floor when ever needed. You became real family when I married into it to Jeff. You have always been the caring person many know and would give the shirt off your back. I hope you peace and love for eternity. Love ya, Red. Not many got away with calling me that. Carla Wyatt
