

Kathleen Louise Haagensen Morton

June 4, 1923 - March 1, 2015

Kathleen Louise Haagensen Morton, 91, of Bloomington, passed away on March 1, 2015 at Bell Trace Health and Living Center.

Born June 4, 1923 in Kansas City, Missouri, she was the daughter of Fred and Louise Baxter. She was married 61 years to Harold Peter Haagensen, who died in 2002, and six years to Lyle Morton, who died in 2010. Kate and Pete were long-time residents of California before moving to Bloomington in 2001.

Kate especially enjoyed family gatherings, Sunday drives into the countryside, gardening, sewing, RV camping, traveling, and reading biographies and historical novels. She became a college football fan after marrying Lyle.

Surviving relatives include daughters Suzanne Waterson (Jack), Nancy Ivie (Robert), and Linda Snyder (Richard); stepdaughters Karma Rodholm and Cathy Brown and stepson Kurt Rodholm; six grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Her life will be celebrated in a memorial service on March 14 at 1:30 p.m. in the Commons room at Bell Trace Senior Living, 800 North Bell Trace Circle, Bloomington, IN 47408.

Memorial gifts in lieu of flowers may be made to the IU Health Bloomington Hospice or First Presbyterian Church in Bloomington.
