“ I'm finding it incredibly difficult to put into words the depth of the loss I'm feeling right now. While I only knew Matt as "Blackeye" or "BK" in our online gaming world, the impact he had on my life and our gaming community was profound.

Matt wasn't just a fellow gamer to me he was also a friend who brightened my days with his presence and laughter. We shared countless adventures in virtual worlds, but our connection went far beyond the pixels on the screen. He was an integral part of our gaming family, and his absence leaves a void that can never be filled.

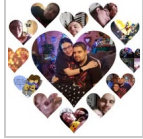

I knew that Matt was battling cancer, and his resilience and bravery in the face of such adversity left me in awe. He showed us all what it truly means to fight with all your heart, even when the odds seem insurmountable.

The news of Matt's passing hit us hard. It's difficult to accept that there will be no more posts from him with pictures of his mischievous cat, Dory, no more hilarious jokes, and no more unforgettable moments. But what I want to convey to you, his family, is that he made a lasting impact on all of us.

The time we spent together, gaming, chatting, and laughing, meant the world to me. Matt brought us together, and for that, I will be forever grateful. He enriched our lives with his presence, and his memory will continue to be a source of strength and inspiration.

Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with you. I can only imagine your loss, and I want you to know that you have my deepest condolences and that Matt will always be in my thoughts.

“ So today I found out I lost one of my best friends Matthew. I know you fought long and hard my friend cancer is the worst. You have been with me every day through everything from the beginning how I miss you you called me and said I was an angel in your life and that I was beautiful with a magical loving heart & soul the strongest woman you knew your best friend we've been through hell & back you thanked me for always being there I said that's what we do for each other we shared so much in our best and our worst times I told you I loved you that you were the strongest man I've known you are my angel I can't believe you're gone I know you suffered I know you fought I know you never gave up. I can't imagine my life without you I'll miss our talks every day you never left my side I never left yours. I miss you my friend I love you you changed so many lives you were loving giving kind sweet funny brave there are no words to explain what you meant to me and how amazing you were. I can't thank you enough for all you did. I love you my friend my heart is broken I'm devastated but I know I will never forget you you will be in my heart thoughts and prayers forever love you my friend rest in peace You are always remembered eternally loved and never forgotten this doesn't feel real ill cherish every moment we had until we meet again love you my friend until the end of time RIP my heart and prayers are with your friends & family sending hugs to all. ❤️👍💛💚

“ I only met my little cousin Mathew again as Adult 4 yrs ago and really stole my heart. He had a good heart and was sweet. My favorite memory is when I got a possum in my apt lol and I text Matt to get it out, he said yes at 4 am. And he just walks it out the door. I miss you already! But I'm so glad he's no longer suffering. I love him. 🙏❤️
