“ I am so sorry for your loss. He was young, with so much of his life ahead.

I wish to share with you comfort from the scriptures at this terribly sad time.

The Bible holds out a wonderful hope for our loved ones who have fallen asleep in death.

Please read John 5:28,29 in your Bible.

Another wonderful future promise is found at Revelation 21:3,4 where it states that , pain and death will be no more. The former things will have passed away.

As you read these texts in your own Bible, may they be of comfort to you.

There is much Bible-based hope and encouragement

“ Mike was a good friend to my son Aaron Beach who passed away last November. I know the pain you are going through and no words can make that any easier. I did not know Mike very well but I liked him alot. My son spent alot of time with him so he was at my home several times. Again I am so very sorry.

“ *It's the little things, the small, everyday occurrences that you'll remember. The laughs, the stories, the smiles. And even though it seems like you can never recover from your loss, it is these very memories that will help push the pain away and bring back the smiles.The kind and gentle person he was, I'm sure the one who made him, realized how special he was, to be left in the midst of this cruel world. He belongs to a place that is kind, a place that is away from all the hassles of this world. May his spirit experience celestial peace and heavenly bliss.
with much love
