“ Just a funny story about Milton when we lived next to the family on 10th street in Bloomington. Milton and I were both same age played on swing set between our houses. We were both pre school age, one Day i walked to his house with him they had some hot red peppers hanging on the back porch for drying. I asked what they were he preceded to tell me they are like candy and gave me one. I of course took it and took a bite. I remember I ran home crying, Mom had no idea what happened, I couldn't stop crying long enough to tell her . Then I believe it was Lucille that came down and told her what I had tasted. so Mom gave me a piece of bread and drink of milk.to stop the burning. I will never forget that. Lol! my sincere condolences go out to the Family! Only Doug would remember this. Sandra Gastineau Staley
