

Myron Edwin "Eddie" Moore Jr.

December 18, 1958 - January 19, 2022

Myron Edwin "Eddie" Moore Jr., born December 18, 1958, made his peaceful transition to his heavenly home while surrounded by devoted family on January 19, 2022 at the boisterous age of 63. Always the lively sort, Eddie was fond of fishing, hunting, and race-car driving—hobbies he enjoyed from a young age. He served in the United States Army and loved to travel and meet new people. Eddie never knew a stranger and was the first to help someone in need. He loved to laugh and tease, as did his daughters do to him. (Some may recall them calling him "Popster," which he pretended to hate.)

He is preceded in death by his parents, Myron Edwin Moore Sr. and Wanda Mae (Banks) Moore, and youngest brother, Howard Moore. He is survived by his wife of 33 years, Eugenia "Gena" (Busch) Moore, their two daughters; Hope (Moore) Robertson Wright and her husband, and Faith Moore; two grandchildren, one brother and his wife, two sisters and their husbands, and many nieces and nephews, all of Bloomington, and three other children.

And because Eddie was not one to ever say goodbye, neither will we. Instead, we'll say, see you later."

“ I have fond memories of hanging out with Eddie and Gena. Eddie was a good friend of my former husband Mark Deckard(also now deceased). They enjoyed hunting and fishing together as well as working on cars. I still have a business card from Moore's Garage. Warm hugs to Gena. Fran Klinger
