“ I just became aware of Nancy's passing. Larry and Nancy were my landlords while I was at IU in the 1980s. Then again, they were both more than landlords. They were individuals who cared about people, even those people who were just renting a room. They were so extremely supportive when my studies brought about stress and difficulty. I will always fondly remember simple conversations on the porch, when they convinced me that I had the ability to take on the challenges that came with my post-grad studies. I was lucky to have their friendship and support.

“ I'm only just learning of Nancy's passing and I'm so sorry to read the news. We lived across the street from her for several years and remained pen pals after we left Bloomington. When we visited Bloomington this summer I saw the house was for rent and emailed her to receive no response. She was so warm and caring and I'm so grateful our paths crossed.

“ While I never met Nancy, as soon as I saw her name in the paper I knew immediately who she was. While Larry was always a very private person when I worked with him for over a decade at RCA, Nancys importance in his life was always clear. While Larry might have occasionally disapproved of some individuals, he never ever had a negative thing to say about his Nancy.
So sorry for your loss old friend. I am sure you are secure in knowing her future.
