“ To Jeff and family: I just heard about Nate's passing.. I cannot tell you how sorry I am. I remember our talks while waiting for patients in x-ray. The talks would frequently center around our boys, their joys and their struggles. I was also impressed with your patience, love, strength, and faith. May those qualities help you during this time.

My deepest condolences, Marsha Huberty

“Dear Susan and Jeff, We send our deepest sympathy at the death of your beloved son Nathan.
Our dear friend Carole called to tell us of your loss and asked for prayers. We will keep you in our prayers now and in the future days as you face each new tomorrow.
I wrote the following poem in 1981 when we were going to our personal trials and I wish to share it with you at this sacred time of your deepest needs.

*"When darkness falls, And all hope seems lost,
That's when He's the closest, So don't measure the cost.*

*When trials surround you, And the wild tempest blows,
Just reach out to Jesus, He loves you and knows.*

*He's faced many a trial, And can handle each one.
Just put your hands into His now, And victory will be won."*

*Jesus loves you and so do we.

“ Mr & Mrs Owens & Family

*We were so heartbroken to hear about Nate's passing. He was such a sweet soul. We found this photo of him and our son David at the Independence Day Parade at Kids club when they were four year olds. Nathan was leading the parade and David was following, they were good buddies and I think they still were in touch via Facebook. Our heartfelt condolences 🙏.
God Bless.*

“ Jeff and Sue, I send you hugs and prayers. Fletcher told me the news. On Tuesday, the 24th, I was cleaning out a box and found a birthday card from Nate to Fletcher. By the humor of the card he was probably turning 12. I'll give it to Fletcher. A memory from his friend. Take care, be kind to yourself, love surrounds you.
