“ Dear Pam had an amazingly positive impact on everyone she met. I was lucky enough to meet her as a naive coed at IU in the Pi Beta Phi house. She guided all of us to wise leadership in her gentle, persuasive way. Her example of leadership and love can be found all around Bloomington. She will be sorely missed but never forgotten as she joins beloved Bill. What treasures they both were to us lucky enough to have known them. Lovingly, Leigh Richey

“ To the children of Pamela Walters - Buck, Scott, Kimberly and Kris: Jean and I were saddened beyond words to learn somewhat belatedly, of the passing of our Pam.

We were such close friends of Pam and Bill and family that we will always carry with us unimaginably fond memories of our times together.

For example, Jean and Pam belonged to a long-standing bridge group which met, I believe, two or three times a month and got together about once a month with the spouses for dinner parties. We remember those happy gatherings, especially the memories of Pam's and Jean's special relationship. Those two lovable, outgoing woman were often still conversing with each other after most of the group had said their goodbyes.

I also seem to remember when Pam and Jean together with Shirley Rumble and Barb Halterman took a trip or two to Arizona. They were altogether fun trips according to Jean.

I also remember when your Father and I went off on fishing trips, at least once to Canada, only to find the two of them waiting anxiously, sometimes together, for our return.

And I also remember the times when the four of us went to Florida with my boat in tow to spend some time with Harriet and Charlie Hewitt at their lakeside home near Panama City. It was a joyful time for all of us even though Bill and I didn't catch many fish! A funny and quite memorable thing happened to us on the way home when we stopped somewhere in Northern Georgia for dinner. We were having our usual evening cocktail when a look of consternation came over the faces of both women. They didn't yell or jump up but they said in no uncertain terms that something was crawling around under the table. So I quickly got up and looked under the table where I saw a mouse eating dinner crumbs. I, of course, chased the mouse away and immediately demanded a table where mice were unlikely. They gave us one and free meals to boot. Hilarious!

The list goes on - both Pam and Jean held offices together in Tri Kappa and both worked in the Meals On Wheels program, though not together.

Please know that our thoughts and prayers are with you as you grieve the loss of your Mother, one of the most remarkable, caring, loving and lovable woman Jean and I have ever known. We know where Pamela is now and that is comforting but will not, of course, assuage your grief at this time.

*God Bless,
Jean and Bill Scott*

“ Pam Walters was a beautiful person and continues to be a beautiful person to all of us who knew her. I don't remember a time in my life where I didn't know Pam because she and my mother were sorority sisters. I heard her name often and would see her in person occasionally. She and her late husband Bill were always very kind and an interested to know how I was, what I was doing and if I was staying out of mischief. I can still hear her unique voice asking me questions about myself and giving me an update on her son my good friend Scott.

I knew Pam was very active in organizations in and around Bloomington but I had no idea how active she was until I read her obituary this morning. I have to say that I'm not surprised to see Pam was so busy doing for others. Caring for others was a gift that both she and Mr Walters shared. Pam, or Mrs Walters, as my mother always insisted I call her and every adult in my life was a contributor to the well-being and happiness of others around her.

I am grateful to have known Pam and the entire Walters family. My heart and condolences go out to you all. Knowing your mother and all of you has enriched my life. May your memories always be pleasant of your mother and your father. They were and remain a source of inspiration to all who were fortunate enough to know them. Godspeed Walters family.
