Mary Jo and I knew Patsy and Don over at the years at St. Charles - they were both wonderful people and we will sadly miss Patsy at Mass.

“ Sally and Michele,

I was very saddened when I learned about Patsy's serious injury and her subsequent death. I first met Patsy not too long after her marriage to Don. During my several visits to their home in Bloomington, I grew to know her and found her to be one of the most gracious and gentle individuals I have known, I was proud to be her brother in law. I enjoyed my visits to Bloomington to be a part of several "Miller-Dudley summer reunion meals" and, especially to visit with Don and Patsy.

I was pleased to meet the both of you and Harrison during the family gathering for Don's funeral, however sad the occasion. I send my best wishes to both of you and your family.

Please forgive me for using this rather impersonal medium to convey my sentiments. I'm afraid my poor eyesight limits what I can write. In fact, a friend helped me prepare and send my condolences.

“ Sally,

It's been many years since we last corresponded and I'm not sure you'll remember me, but it was quite a surprise to read your mother's obituary in the Bloomington newspaper and I wanted to send my condolences.

From what I remember (and my memory isn't so good), our mothers were friends from Bloomington. In the 50s, when you lived in Indianapolis, we played together until you moved to Washington. We wrote to each other for several years after that, even into college?. I probably have some letters stuck away.

The funny thing is I live in Bloomington and have since I graduated from I.U. I didn't know your mother had moved back to Indiana. Again, please accept my sympathy and feel free to contact me by email or call if you are in Bloomington and happen to need anything.

*Take care,

“ Part's beauty, kindness and infectious smile will be missed by many. Her grace and giggles filled my heart with joy-the void left by her passing is immense. Her love for her family had no boundaries. I wish you peace as you let memories comfort you.
