“ Paul treated 10 couples from his University High School class to an overnight and gourmet meal at West Baden a few years back. A true democrat, he didn't play favorites. The invitation was to the "first 10 to respond." It was a memorable weekend with Paul and other old friends. When I thanked him, he said, "Aw st, I'm just spendin' my comps." Paul Baugh, a gentleman and a scholar of the most human kind.

“ Well i still pass that corner lot and can remember that hauler or that wrecker always coming or going. I can still remember the happiness of card day with his buddies. I can remember bringing my son there and having the question of why the model cars. I guess when you decide a career and hobbies like that, then you decide those things never change. my sympathy to the family.
