“ Rachel was at one point my niece and my student. I loved this girl. She was incredibly smart, and was a sweet young lady. I was out of the country when she passed, but I still think about her. She is missed.

“ Rachel was a bright light that entered our family back in 2006 when her and my brother got married. Her light and positive attitude no matter what she was going through will always be inspiration to me. I miss her laugh and the way she always lit up the room when she walked in. I will cherish all the times we just talked and laughed. She was someone I could always talk to and her not judge me. Thank you Rachel for all the joy you brought to our lives. Thank you for bringing into the world my amazing niece and nephew. I miss you and wish you were still here. These pictures were from my wedding that she officiated. I love and miss you my sister.

“ I had my first encounter with Rachel when returning to town with sore muscles after a week-long bicycle trip. I called Bloomington Massage and Bodyworks on the off chance that I could get a massage. Rachel was available and was working her way through nursing school at the time. She was so talented that I signed on as a regular until she graduated from nursing school. I begged her to keep me in mind if she branched off into doing her own massage business. But I knew her love was with nursing. She was intuitive and very kind. A great loss to her profession of nursing and to the world who needs the kindness she emanated. I am so sorry for your loss.

“ I had just a few interactions with Rachel, but she was the most amazing nurse who helped me and my husband survive our first night after having our sweet baby girl 2 years ago. She knew exactly the right words to say to not only ease our fears but encourage us and make us laugh when we wanted to cry. I'm very thankful for the time we had together even if it was just hours. She made a lasting impression on us. So sorry for your loss.

“ Rachel was my night nurse many times during an extended maternity stay in 2018. She always greeted me with a smile and made me laugh through a very stressful time. We remained friends after my discharge.. she also would go check on my son in the NICU over the next three months. I adored her. My family is so saddened by this loss. Rachel was a gift to this world.<3
