“ Oh, sweet Rexy. I sure am going to miss him!

He was kind, absolutely hilarious, thoughtful, and gentle. I'll never forget belting out Eagles, John Prine, Crosby, Stills, Nash & Young, Johnny Cash, etc. tunes with him at the Viking Picnic. With Dave Masters' fingers on the guitar & Rexy's lungs carrying a tune....ah....music to my ears. :)

Hold tight, sweet friends, there IS music in Heaven. What a delight. What a gift.

I pray God pours peace, comfort, and love into Vicki's life. I trust that God will embrace Harry & Debbie & Mark and the rest of the Breedlove clan. He promises to do so. He keeps His promises. Oh, what a mighty God!

Speaking Rexy's name brings a smile to my face. It will be an honor to continue to celebrate his life. I'm thankful for the promise of Heaven.

Cling tight to Philippians 4:13 and claim it will your whole heart. God makes BIG promises: "I can do ALL things through CHRIST who gives me strength." Not some things...ALL things. WOW!

“ WOW!! Another Viking gone. I really haven't seen much of you all for the last few years but I always fondly remember the Viking parties. Sherrie & I were talking about REXY on one of our camping trips where it was tropical rains and we set under the shelter they made and played cards. That night when we went to our tents REXY's tent ended up in a stream of water so the next morning he was floating on his air mattress. It was a soooo funny. I'll always remember REXY kind heart. He loved to see us laughing. I know he will be soooo missed. My prayers are with you and your family. Jane Kuruzovich

“ Victoria,

I knew "Chuck" (as I knew him) when we first started working at GE. He was a friend. A good guy. We went fishing at Lake Monroe and generally had fun. I am sorry that you have lost him.
