“ I'll miss out talks, your words of wisdom, your way of calming my soul when I feel the world is falling apart around me. You gave me strength. You got me through that passing of Dad and Uncle Greg, with your positivity. You are the strongest woman I have had the pleasure of calling Grandma. I am lost without you already. Please continue to watch over Larry and all of us who will miss you. You were the BEST Grandma and we will continually let your legacy go on. You raised us to love each other no matter what, and always accept family the way that are. Our hearts are forever broken but I know that you finally won your battle and what a glorious day that was when you were reunited with your sons. I'll miss you until my very last breath.
