

Susan Koch

May 14, 1954 - June 9, 2013

Susan Lynn Koch, 59, of Bloomington, passed away Sunday at the Golden Living Center. She was born to Edwin O. and Doris E. Koch on May 14, 1954 in Butler, PA. She graduated from Bloomington High School and was a member of First Presbyterian Church. Susan loved drawing, especially trees, and going for rides out into the country to enjoy the beauties of nature. She maintained a lively correspondence with many friends, whose cards and letters brightened her days. Susan faced many challenges in life, but she always wanted to spread a little happiness in the world and succeeded in doing so by offering friendly and encouraging words to those whose paths crossed hers and by stuffing envelopes for charitable organizations. She is survived by her mother, Doris E. Koch of Bloomington; a sister, Eleanor Christina (James) Clemons of Green Acres, FL; two nieces, Kimberly Clemons of Louisville, KY, and Rebecca (Nathan) Harper of Goodlettsville, TN; a nephew, David (Beth) Clemons of Fort Lewis, Washington; two great-nephews, Daniel Clemons and Derrick Harper, and several cousins. She was preceded in death by her father; her grandparents, Edwin O. and Bennie Dunaway Koch and Henry W. and Eleanor C. Smith; her aunts, Jane (Haynes) McMullen and Irene (Gene) Albright; and several cousins. Funeral services will be held at First Presbyterian Church this Friday, June 14, at 11 a.m. Burial will take place after the service at Valhalla Memory Gardens. Friends may greet the family in the church parlor from 10-10:45 a.m. before the service. In lieu of flowers memorial contributions may be made to First Presbyterian Church, 221 E. 6th St., Bloomington, or to The Salvation Army, 508 W. Kirkwood Ave., Bloomington.
