“ *She was a one of a kind person that was always there for you no matter what the situation was. She never asked for anything in return. I never heard her complain about anything in life ...even battling cancer she never complained. She was and is still the strongest woman I've ever known
To have her as my oldest sister was such a blessing. She was extraordinary. Her love changed lives and helped so many. I will always be so grateful I knew her and loved her but mostly grateful she loved me. Love you sis.*
