“ *To the Litz family,
Troy will always be remembered as a good friend. His love for his family and music. I remember the first time I heard him play the guitar I was amazed. Troy was a friend that when we saw each other and about that we could pick right up where we left off. The whole family is in my thoughts and prayers. Until we all see each other again.*

“ I just found out yesterday and am deeply saddened to hear this. Devastated. Condolences to all the family! I am forever grateful for my time and memories with Troy. It was such a please that I would wish for another day and then ask for more. His laugh was contagious, easily brightening a day. I have more great memories than I can count but I really enjoyed the time when Troy tried to teach me how to play guitar. We were not successful but not due to him and his abilities. It is an understatement to say he will be missed.

“ Troy was a good friend and just an all around good person. While I have hundreds of memories and have shared countless laughs with Troy, the memory I want to share may seem a little odd at first. But now that I am a little older, I see things a little differently than I used to and can appreciate the things that I might have overlooked in the past. So I remember when Troy was 15 years old or so and He had decided that he was going to run away from home and come stay with me. I don't remember why or anything like that, I just remember it didn't last long at all. After a quick phone call to his parents to tell them he had run away and wasn't coming home. His parents were at my house with in the hour to get him and bring him back home. He was lucky to have such a loving family that no matter what kind of stupid stuff we were getting into, they were always by his side. I know he is missed dearly and the world lost someone truly special. To Mike, Glenda, Amy, Kevin, Kaitlynn, and the rest of Troy's family, my heart and prayers go out to you and if you need any help, I would love to help in anyway that I can.
