“ *Dear Sarah and Matthew,
We are very saddened to learn of your grandmother's death.
Wanda was Jane Hafele Scott's cousin.
Jane was John's mother and my Mother-in-Law.
We visited Bob and Wanda in Bloomington several times and took Jane H. Scott to visit her in more recent years.
Your Grandmother, as you know, was a special, classy person.
Matthew, you may recall that John and I watched you play tennis one time at Michigan State.
I asked a friend who worked at Meadow Brook about your Grandmother as my Christmas card to her this year was returned.
She gave me her obituary.
Our granddaughter started Optometry School at IU this month.
IU's campus has grown over 50 years, but the architecture is unchanged. We visited Megan this week and went by Stoney Crest Motel which is now apartments. Very different. Frank and Rhoda Zellers, your Great-Grandparent's home is still next door, still lovely but sadly overgrown.
We hope it somehow helps to know we share your loss.

“ There are so many memories of Aunt Wanda it is impossible to express in a paragraph or two. Aunt Wanda was a woman in my life that was always there; through moves; changes and ups and downs. As a little girl spending many summers in Bloomington, Indiana with my brothers and cousin, I fondly remember with warmth; think of with pride and cherish with love my memories of Aunt Wanda. Happiness was found in simple things of holding her hand going to Piggly Wiggly; the smells of green beans and fried chicken coming from the kitchen; the chiggers in her rose gardens and her gentle touch of calamine lotion on the bites; growing veggies at the local co-op garden; swimming at the Stoney Crest Motel in Bloomington and I can still envision her beauty in her swim suit and her colorful swim cap; jumping into her car and hearing the crunch of gravel in the driveway going home. Aunt Wanda gave me courage to live my life and her steady presence of strength and love will always be with me. Love always, Cindy

“ My best memories of Wanda include her stories of all her travels around the world, her beautiful gardens and her yummy dill bread. Most of all I remember when she talked about her family and the love and pride she radiated. A life well lived-RIP
